How does it work?

Scheduler is running → Stop Scheduler

Scheduler is not running → Start Scheduler

The frame around a task shows its state.

Task is active and running right now

Task which matches the current time but is not active because another task is active at the moment

Task is inactive

While Scheduler is running it will check constantly for available tasks one out of two things will happen:

- 1. No task matching the current time is found
  - a. Scheduler will log out and wait in the character selection screen until a task becomes available
  - b. It will log in every 6 hours to prevent the game from getting closed
- 2. An task matching the current time is found
  - a. if you are not in PvP and not in a Fractal the setup for the task will start
    - i. the selected bot mode will get set to be active
    - ii. if a specific character is selected scheduler will swap to that character if that character exists
    - iii. if a specific map is selected scheduler will try to move to that map
    - iv. if the bot mode, character and map matches the task settings, the setup is completed and Scheduler will start the bot mode
  - b. It will wait until the next task becomes active and requires a setup

FAQ

No. There are plenty of reasons why the bot gets turned off. After an initial setup the bot won't get started again. If you would reload this resetting the cache of the addon it would setup the task and start the bot mode again.

What do I have to select to start the PvP/WvW addon from Madao?

Simply select MadaoWvW or MadaoPvp depending on what you want to run. Scheduler knows how to set MadaoDefault up to run either PvP or WvW.
